VIOLET JORDAN Leadership Award

The Jordan State Electorate was named after Ellen Violet Jordan - only the second woman to ever be elected to the Queensland Parliament (in 1966).

In honour of her remarkable achievements, the Violet Jordan Leadership Award seeks to find the next generation of leaders within the Jordan electorate.

To apply for the Violet Jordan Leadership Award, simply answer the following:

What is your definition of leadership and who you would list as an example of a good leader? (500 words)

Outline your current community leadership (such as volunteering or involvement in community life), and how the Award will contribute in developing your leadership potential (250 words)

Email your application to:
jordan@parliament.qld.gov.au

Include your full name, address, contact number and school you are attending in 2023.
